

Study having school lunches catered

By BILL WINTER
of the Press-Record

A Peat, Marwick, Mitchell and Co. study of Granite City school food service suggests—as one of the potential cost-reduction alternatives—the hiring of a catering service.

Michael B. Andreas of PMM told the school district last week that "one district in our 12-district survey uses a professional food management service."

"The assistant superintendent said that, prior to contracting for catering five years ago, the district had annual deficits of approximately $60,000. Since hiring the catering service, it has operated at a break-even basis in accordance with Illinois State Board of Education child nutrition program semi-annual financial report requirements."

"The district's catering manager indicated the primary savings had resulted from reductions in the cafeteria labor force. The catering service assumed full responsibility for employment of cafeteria workers. It processes their payroll and benefits, and conducts union negotiations."

"The cost of such catering services is uniquely contracted with each school district, and is generally comprised of an administrative fee and a management fee. You may want to consider entertaining competitive bids for catering if the other recommended measures are not successful in eliminating the present deficit," Andreas said.

The Peat, Marwick, Mitchell report relates that the Granite City school system "provides essentially the same benefits to full and part-time workers as of these benefits, such as Social Security, vacation, holidays and the like are directly proportional to the number of hours worked and amount of wages earned."

"Other benefits, such as medical insurance, cost the district the same amount per employee whether full-time or part-time."

"Combining 4-, 5- and 6-hour per day positions into 8-hour per day jobs wherever possible would eliminate the fixed benefit costs of part-time employees."

"There are 43 part-time employees representing 176 work hours per day. Combining these into 8-hour positions would result in 19 fewer employees and a reduction in insurance costs of over $20,000 per year."

"Due to staffing requirements among the various cafeterias, it is clearly not feasible to combine all of these positions. And the current contract mandates a specified number of part-time employees at elementary schools, based on the average plate-count per day."

Employment at the secondary schools is more discretionary, based on the judgment of the district cafeteria manager; the majority of part-time workers are currently employed at secondary schools (junior highs and high schools).

"It is our understanding that some efforts have been undertaken to combine these jobs in the past when a vacancy occurred through attrition."

"We recommend that an active program be initiated to review all part-time positions at secondary schools to determine which jobs can be combined into full-time positions."

"Illinois Municipal Retirement Fund participation is mandatory for non-certificated employees who work 600 or more hours a year. There appears to be potential for cost savings in this area, depending on the approach taken. This area should be reviewed by the administration."

"In analyzing comparative data from other school districts, it appears that Granite City elementary food costs per meal are reasonable. Most of our efforts were directed at secondary schools, where more varied menus are served."

"Several practices in secondary schools may provide opportunities to reduce costs. The primary area of potential savings relates to a la carte lunches served as Type A plate lunches."

"These lunches typically consist of hamburgers or pizza slices, French fries, milk shakes and up to two additional items—for example, vegetables or a dessert—from the regular plate lunch selections."

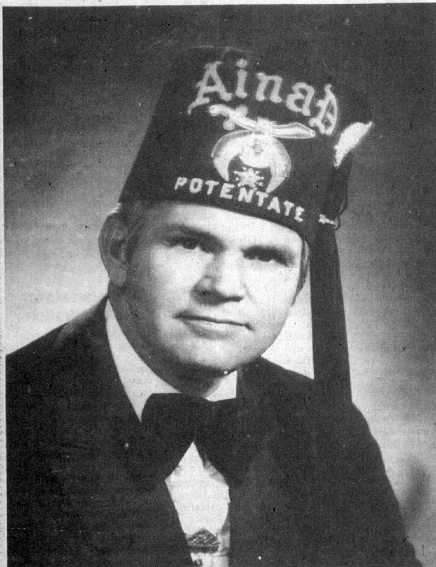

"Direct cash food costs of these a la carte lunches are substantially higher than for regular plate lunches," the PMM analysis found.

"This is because the a la carte lunches are comprised almost entirely of purchased food items; little or no U.S. Department of Agriculture donated commodities are used."

"Conversely, many of the food items utilized for regular Type A lunches are USDA donated commodities, where the only out-of-pocket costs to the district are for transportation."

"A la carte lunches appear to comprise about one-third of total Type A lunches served."

"The practice of offering a la carte (Continued on Page 6)

Don Adams Ainaad potentate

Don Adams, a Granite City businessman, was elected potentate to head the 8793 Nobles of Ainaad Shrine Temple at the annual meeting at the Shrine in East St. Louis on Thursday night. He succeeds Ray L. Tibbs of Mount Vernon, Ill.

Ainaad is one of 181 Shrine Temples in North America, and its jurisdictional lines cover all of Southern Illinois south of Route 70. There are four other Temples in Illinois, namely, Springfield, Peoria, Rockford and Chicago.

The other Offices of the Divan elected at the same time include:

Mark W. Moreton, chief rabban, Freeburg; Bill D. Parker, assistant rabban, Fairfield; Gene T. Morris, high priest and prophet, Duquoin; Joseph W. Barnes Jr., oriental guide, Highland; Ray L. Tibbs, treasurer, Mount Vernon; R. H. "Dick" Ervay, recorder, Granite City.

Divan Officers appointed by the new Potentate:

Thomas J. Barschak, first ceremonial master, Edwardsville; Raymond R. "Randy" Burton, second ceremonial master, Granite City; Irvin

C. Slate Jr., director, Granite City; William H. "Bill" Piper, captain of the guard, Belle River; Harold E. Tracy, outer guard, Marine; Clarence V. Tolley, chaplain, O'Fallon; Orville Hommert, marshal, Granite City.

Elected to represent Ainaad Temple at the Imperial Council Session in July, in New Orleans, are:

Donald G. Adams, Granite City; Mark W. Moreton, Freeburg; Bill D. Parker, Fairfield; Edward G. Maag, Belleville.

The Shrine is known for its Shriners Hospitals for Crippled Children of which there are 18 Orthopedic and three Burns Institutes. The St. Louis Unit covers an area for Ainaad. There were 380 children from Southern Illinois who used that facility. Ainaad is also sending 54 children back and forth to Cincinnati, Ohio, to the nearest Burns Institute for care at no cost to the parents.

Ainaad Temple received its charter in 1913, with Thomas L. Fekete as Potentate. Don Adams will be number 69 since that time. The Shrine which stands at 609 St. Louis Avenue, was built in 1923, and is one of the finest in Shrinism in this area. The setting is

Madison schools to expand bus service

The Madison Board of Education, at its meeting Thursday evening, approved adding students from the Cloverleaf bus line to the high school, provided there are students that need the service.

Some parents have contacted the board about the service. Parents of students from the Cloverleaf area may contact the principal's offices for student pickup. The board felt that since there was already a bus route in Eagle Park Acres it would be a simple matter to have the bus swing into Cloverleaf.

It was called to the board's attention that on Tuesday, Governor James R. Thompson had vetoed Senate Bill 1812.

Senate Bill 1812 would have provided for a new mandate on local school district transportation services and require local districts to provide free transportation services to any student who attends a non-public school located more than one and one-half miles and less than five miles from the students residence.

The Madison Board went on record opposing the bill last December. The board instructed the administration to write and thank Gov. Thompson for the veto.

A cover letter and the minutes from the Desegregation Advisory Committee meetings will be sent to the State Board of Education after the board has read them.

On a "motion to send them to Springfield, Paul Bargiel objected stating the board had just received them and had not had time to read them. He pointed out he felt it was important for the board to be familiar with the working of the committee."

The board, on a four to two vote, tabled sending the minutes to Springfield, until the next meeting, which will give board members a chance to read them.

Board member Don Garrett questioned when the communications committee would resume functioning.

The committee, composed of board members, was formed to serve as a sounding board on school district problems.

"All I hear from the administration is everything is going fine. We have a number of problems and some very serious problems that we need to start solving," Garrett said.

Board Secretary Bill Bosworth said that she would check the minutes and see who is the chairman of the committee.

"Well if we don't get the committee functioning I will issue a minority report of my own," Garrett said.

The matter of hiring a curriculum director was tabled until the next meeting, pending a job description

Lack of funds stalls I-270

By EDGURNEY

A lack of funds could delay the completion of road projects such as I-270 and prevent the start of new projects unless new sources of funding are found.

That was the word from Dale Klorh, district engineer for the Illinois Department of Transportation.

Klorh painted a gloomy financial picture for members of the Madison County board. He wants the board members to lobby the General Assembly for laws to increase funding for roads.

Income has not kept up with inflation, Klorh said. Local as well as state road work is affected, because many local governments rely heavily on motor fuel tax revenues, he said.

Contracts for $16 million worth of work on the I-270 project are being awarded in the current fiscal year that ends in June. Highway officials had planned to award $60 million worth of work this year, Klorh said.

"I-270 is certainly a highway that is going to be built," Klorh said. "The question now is the timing."

He said IDOT is ready "except for funding" to award contracts for $50 million more work.

The I-270 timetable, if the funding problem can be corrected by August, calls for completion of the section between the Jefferson Barracks bridge and I-64 by 1983. The section between I-64 and I-70-55 at Collinsville would be finished by 1985, and the final section from I-50 to existing I-270 would be completed by 1987.

A four-year timetable was announced in 1979 for road projects. Under current conditions, only 50 percent of that work will be completed by 1983, Klorh said. The highway engineer explained why the road funding situation is poor. Since last April the state has lost $127 million in federal aid as part of President Jimmy Carter's budget cuts. Local government lost $23 million.

There has been a reduction of $55 million in gasoline tax revenue due to an 8 percent reduction in purchases of gasoline. The use of more fuel efficient cars is apparently the reason, because the amount of miles traveled by motorists is down only 2 percent, he said.

Roads receive a share of sales tax revenue. That income is $17 million less than anticipated because of the partial elimination of the sales tax on food and drugs, and the downturn in the economy.

Costs of highway construction have more than tripled from 1969 to 1979, Klorh said. The inflation rate in road construction is higher than in the rest of the economy because it's an energy-intensive industry, he said.

Some townships and road districts can no longer afford to oil and chip their roads, and are converting some roads to gravel, Klorh said. Such a regression

Agreements expiring

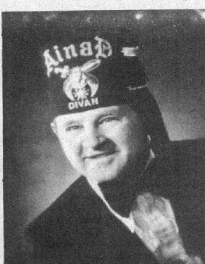

It will be a busy spring, and perhaps a busy summer, for the Granite City school district, all of whose employee agreements expire June 30.

A date for the various negotiations to start has not yet been set.

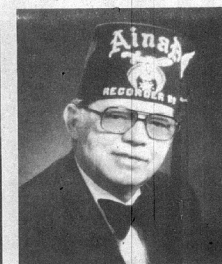

Notices have been received from three bargaining groups by the Board of Education, it was announced last week. All seek changes in their working agreements for the 1981-82 school year.

Work required for food stamp recipients

Able-bodied food stamp recipients must actively search for jobs or be dropped from the program under new rules announced today by the U.S. Department of Agriculture and Labor, effective June 1, 1981.

Under the new regulations, people who fail to look for a job on their own or who don't report for interviews at their state employment office will lose their households dropped from the food stamp program for two months.

Retiring Assistant Secretary of Agriculture Carol Tucker
Foreman said last week.
Those who are exempt from the work registration requirement are primarily

the elderly and disabled, those already working, those responsible for the care of dependents, or those already subject to work requirements under the unemployment insurance or work incentive programs.
The rules also require recipients who register for work to be called in to their state employment service, now identified as the job service in many states, for an interview and job classification.

State job service agencies will continue to refer registrants to potential employers, but food stamp recipients will also have to supplement this with their own eight-week job search.

The new rules will establish as a standard that work registrants contact up to 24 potential employers within the eight-week period, and also report back twice to their employment counsels on the progress made.
Requirements for each person's job search will depend on their individual circumstances and the availability of jobs in the community, as assessed by the job service counselor.
The state job services will report to state welfare agencies the names of food stamp job seekers who refuse to comply with the interview or job search rules, as well as those who find jobs.

Massage parlor yellow-page ad not true—mayor

Mayor Paul Schuler announced today that an investigation by the Granite City police department of a telephone book yellow-page advertisement of a massage parlor has disclosed there is no such address and the phone number is erroneous. The mayor said he received a phone call from an angry woman who deplored the use of the ad and asked that it be investigated.

He said police found there is no such place as "Aaron Escorts and Models" at 2112 State St. with a phone number of 451-1414.

"If it is a practical joke, someone spent a lot of money," the mayor said. He said that phone number was assigned some time ago to an individual whom he no longer has the number.

The advertisement referred to by the mayor is on page 113 of the telephone directory, is two by two inches in size and advertises "Male and Female Outcalls only" under the heading of massage.

Dr. Patel to be honored

The American College of Physicians (ACP) announced that Kanubhai M. Patel, MD, of Granite City, has been elected to Fellowship in the 50,000-member national medical specialty society.

Dr. Patel will be honored during the Convocation ceremony at the College's Annual Session in Kansas City, April 6-9, 1981.

The 65-year-old ACP represents internal medicine doctors (internists) and related specialists. The college works to upgrade the quality of medical care, education, practice, and research through rigorous membership requirements and programs of continuing medical education.

Election to Fellowship in the college signifies that a physician has been recognized by his colleagues as having attained a level of medical scholarship and achievement in internal medicine.

Usually, Fellowship means that the honoree has authored articles in medical journals, presented papers at medical meetings, is involved in the teaching of young doctors and medical students and has made other notable contributions to the advancement of medical science and practice.

Dr. Patel is one of 14,000 physicians to be honored with Fellowship in the College. 600 have been elected this year. A 1965 graduate of the B. J. Medora, Ahmedabad, India, Dr. Patel has been a resident of Granite City, Illinois for seven years and is on the staff of the St. Elizabeth Medical Center in Granite City.

Fellowship in the American College of Physicians entitles doctors to use the initials FACP after their names.

State school budget up $187 million

Although Governor James R. Thompson has said the state can't afford it, the Illinois Education Board proposed a new budget of nearly $2.9 billion Thursday—an increase of $187 million.

State School Superintendent Donald G. Gill said during the board meeting that board members "have pondered and weighed and shored up and tried to respond to needs as best we can," but he acknowledged at the same time that the increase of 8.6 percent faces a rough time in the General Assembly.

"It is going to be very difficult to get the full $187 million we've asked for," Gill said.

Gill said if lawmakers cut the budget too much, school districts are going to find themselves digging into taxpayers' pockets to pay for programs required by the state or reducing other programs.

Thompson repeatedly has issued budget warnings claiming that the state has dug into the state treasury and that the state's entire $14.5 billion budget can contain total increases of $400 million.

The budget is made up of $2.4 billion in state money and nearly $478 million in federal money, a total of nearly $2.9 billion.

The education board, higher education officials and other state agencies are seeking budget increases totaling more than $1 billion.

The budget would cover the state's more than 2 million elementary and secondary school students attending school in 1,000 districts.

"There was no opposition to the new budget during the board meeting and the board approved the new document unanimously. Some members admitted the budget is higher than some officials would like it to be, but said more money is needed to finance current services and state-required programs."

Gill said the state board has attempted to cut down costs through employee reductions, but added "we can't go any further."

Grant for driver education

A highway safety grant to fund Advanced Driver Education classes for special populations has been awarded Southern Illinois University at Carbondale.

The Illinois Department of Transportation announced approval of the grant last week.

According to Dr. James E. Aaron, coordinator of the Safety Center at SIU, 75 percent of the approximately $152,000 cost of the classes will be supplied by the grant.

Federal funds for highway safety projects were made available to the State of Illinois under the Highway Safety Act of 1966. These funds are administered by the Illinois Department of Transportation's Division of Traffic Safety.

Advanced Driver Education is designed to improve driver performance of emergency and evasive maneuvers. Drivers are taught skills that improve driver performance in emergency situations.

The General Motors designed curriculum will be used to instruct 80 to 85 courses through the SIU Safety Center. Fifteen of the classes will be held at off-campus locations. One thousand ambulance drivers, firemen, police officers and teachers from Southern Illinois will receive the training.

Assessment protests are due

Granite City residents wishing to appeal the assessment of their homes must do so early this week before the deadline. The deadline, however, is not clear. Granite City Township Assessor Von Dee Cruse said the objection forms must be filed Wednesday at 5 p.m. with the Board of Review in Edwardsville.

However, a spokesman for the Board of Review said the deadline is 5 p.m. Thursday, Jan. 29, since the assessment list was published in the Dec. 29 issue of the Press-Record and homeowners have 30 days after publication to protest the new assessments.

For Namekiki Township residents, petitions must be filed at the Board of Review office by 5 p.m. Friday. The deadline officially is Jan. 31, which is Saturday, but the courthouse will be closed that day, the spokesman said, so Friday will be the deadline.

Marine man new outer guard on Shrine divan

Harold E. Tracy, a Marine, Ill., truck firm operator, was named outer guard of Almad Temple Thursday night, becoming the new member of the divan.

He was born on Oct. 19, 1926 at Albany, Texas, and went to 2 county grade school for eight years near Maud, Okla. He went to four years of high school at Dundee High School at McMann, Okla. After graduating from High School in June 1944, he moved to Marine, Ill., and worked in the oil fields. He was drafted into the Army in 1945. He was in the service 25 years and overseas 10 months and received an honorable discharge in June, 1947.

Married while still in service in 1946 to Ruby Ellen Werder from Highland, Ill., they have five children, 4 sons — Michael, Steven, Barry and Danny and one daughter, Barbara.

The oldest son, Mike, is a member of the Blue Lodge of Marine, and is hoping he will be a Shriner by this time next year. They have five grandchildren. They are members of the United Church of Christ of Marine.

Tracy started his own oil field trucking business in August, 1947, which was incorporated to Tracy Trucking Company in 1956. He is president of Tracy Trucking Company and Tracy Leasing, Inc. These two family-owned corporations are primarily engaged in the hauling of crude oil in the Illinois basin with trucks and offices located in Marine, Mount Auburn, Centralia and Casey, Ill., and trucks stationed in Enfield and Flora, Ill. He is the owner of H & R Oil Properties which is engaged in the producing of crude oil.

Tracy has belonged to Marine Lodge No. 355

Presidential search service hired by BAC

Bellevue Area College's Board of Trustees last week unanimously approved the Washington, D.C., based firm of Presidential Search Consultant Services to help in the search for a permanent president for the college.

Dr. Bruce R. Wissore, acting president, told reporters after the January board meeting that he would not apply for the position.

"The board knows what kind of job I have done," he said. Speculation about the possibility of the board offering him the job is improper at this time, Wissore said although agreeing that he would accept it if offered.

A three-member committee, comprised of Edward O'Malley, Patricia Bartokas and John Becker, recommended the firm after having met twice to consider various individuals and organizations that specialize in college presidential searches.

The three received advice and direction from David Viar, executive secretary of the Illinois Community College Trustees Association.

The board confirmed the appointments of Helen Toni as secretary for public information; John M. Silvestre as director of the Basic Education Grant and Richard City Day Program; Michael J. Poland as business instructor; and William P. Richards as aviation maintenance instructor.

Helen Toni and Richards replace Karen Robinson and Richard Kamn, respectively, whose resignations were accepted at the January meeting.

Clay Baitman was appointed acting supervisor of the Allied Health and Personal and Public Services Division of the college.

Vice-Chairman Becker, who presided over the meeting in the absence of Chairman Robert Dintelmann, said that if the arrangement is successful, Baitman is able to satisfactorily handle his present duties as coordinator of the Fire Science Program and the new responsibilities. It will save taxpayers about $35,000 per year.

This change, he said, is another in a series of productivity measures designed to reduce administrative overhead costs in line with the recommendations of last spring's Ernst and Whinney study.

Bids for an auditor will be taken this year in keeping with BAC policy to retain an auditing firm for three consecutive audits and then to take bids for the succeeding year. The firm of Becherer, Stein, Voellinger and Moore has performed the external audit at BAC for the past three years.

Twenty-five hundred to 3,000 students are being served in extension centers at Granite City by Bellevue Area College, according to Dean of General Studies and Community Services Larry Schmalenberger.

Frank L. Kraus, community coordinator in Granite City, and Jerry L. Ethridge, evening supervisor in that city's extension program at GCHS South, were awarded raises of $1,392 and $464, respectively, retroactive to Aug. 15.

A consideration to amend the college's personnel procedures for administrators to provide flat compensation for evening supervision of $2,000 per semester was tabled, and the board was named as a "committee of the whole" to study the proposed structure. The agenda item will be brought back to the board at the February meeting.

Concern expressed by board members, administrators, friends of the college and others about the public image of the college was the reason given for retention of the St. Louis firm of Fleishman-Hillard as public relations counsel at a cost of $1,500 per month.

The firm will work with the present public relations staff to "let the community know what kind of direction Bellevue Area College is taking, and that we are a quality institution," Dr. Wissore said.

The firm will review present and past communications efforts of the college, survey the community to determine the present public perception of the college, recommend projects to improve public relations and talk about when the time might be right for a tax effort.

Wayne Lanier was named chairman of the English department. His appointment leaves only the Department of Physical and Mathematical Sciences without a chairman.

Appointment of department chairmen at the college has been a subject of controversy since the conclusion of faculty negotiations.

American Association of University Professors officials have accused the administration of appointing "in-group" instructors to the positions.

Lanier, Dr. Wissore told newsmen following the meeting, does not fall into the so-called in-group category since he was on strike in November and has been "one of the most enthusiastic supporters of AUP activities."

The meeting has been called by Supervisor of Assessments James Barton of Granite City, who said the annual meeting is required by state statute.

Barton said state legislators of the area, the state's attorney representatives and others will be speakers at the meeting.

The meeting is scheduled at 10 a.m. Friday in the county board room in the basement of the courthouse.

1,000 BLOOD UNITS DONATED AT SIUE

Red Cross donors at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville gave 1,000 pints of blood during the 1979-80 school year, placing them second among 22 colleges in the Missouri-Illinois region, according to a Red Cross official.

Washington University donors gave 1,453 pints of blood.

SIUE has participated in the blood program since 1969, holding three drives a year sponsored by Alpha Phi Omega, a service fraternity on the campus. The next SIUE drive will be Feb. 25 and 26, from 9 a.m. until 2 p.m.

fixtures for Harris and Blair schools, and for work on the middle school athletic field.

Board member Billie Bosworth noted that the board, at its next meeting, should take time to review the several suggestions that the teachers from the middle school have made.

She noted there were several very fine suggestions and the board now had to review them to see what they could and could not do to implement some of the ideas.

Cost is a factor in many of the suggestions. Bosworth noted there were many ideas where the cost factor was very small or did not exist.

A special meeting of the board has been called for Thursday, Jan. 29 at 7:30 p.m. in the board office.

federal road grants. Local governments could face the same predicament in 1985 or 1986, he said.

Klohr said county board members should tell legislators of the need for added road revenue.

Proposals expected to be considered include higher license fees and making the motor fuel tax a percentage of the cost per gallon. Currently the state receives a flat 7.5 cents per gallon.

A financial aid workshop will be held today at 7 p.m. in the Granite City High School South auditorium.

Probe robbery at Grandpa's

The Madison County Sheriff's Department is investigating the robbery of the Grandpa's bread store on Route 46 last Saturday evening.

Two men took $100 in currency from the cash register in an incident that took place shortly after 8 p.m. at the store, located at 8011 Collinsville Road.

According to the sheriff's reports, the cashier, Shirley Tolar, 42, Caseyville, thought the two men were shopping.

One man put his hand in the cash register drawer. Tolar grabbed his arm and told him to stop. The other man then put his hand on her face and wrestled her to the floor. They fled with $100 in $10 bills.

The robbers were described as black males, ages approximately 25 and 40, both tall and thin.

Witnesses saw them and another man flee west on Collinsville Road in a light beige or yellow car, believed to be a 1978 Chevrolet.

School lunch catering

items at Type A lunch prices is a fairly recent development. This resulted from cashiers charging the regular plate lunch prices, ostensibly because it was more expedient in ringing cash register sales.

"We recommend that you review the a la carte program to determine whether to continue offering it, and that the program either be eliminated, or pricing be increased to cover costs."

"If they are continued, we recommend that a la carte items be excluded from Type A plate lunch offerings and be returned to true a la carte pricing. The federal and state reimbursements lost could be more than offset by increased revenues generated by pricing items to reflect more accurately the actual costs for food and labor expenses."

The PMM study found that the schools were including with Type A lunches milk shakes that cost 25.8 cents per serving, compared with the 12.3-cent cost of milk, indicating that the district is losing 13.5 cents per serving on each shake served with a Type A lunch.

The Board of Education voted last week to discontinue milk shakes at the basic lunch price; they will still be available, but at extra cost. The effective date of this change will be decided in early February.

Milk shake sales in 1979-80 at secondary schools averaged 1,800 a day, totaling $25,000 for the year, at an added cost approaching $44,000.

In addition, the mixing and serving of shakes and the cleaning of machines require six 4-hour workers at the secondary schools, an annual expense of $36,000 for labor and $9,100 in indirect cost allocations.

This determination placed the uncharged milk shake cost at $89,100, including $80,000 in out-of-pocket expenses.

If a student purchases any three of the five items that constitute a Type A lunch, he or she is considered to have purchased a Type A lunch and the district has been reimbursed 18 cents (now changed to 16 cents by the federal government).

With milk shakes to be excluded from Type A and included as an a la carte item, the district will be reimbursed 5 cents, the special milk reimbursement, for each shake.

If a secondary school student buys a Type A plate lunch for the regular price of 80 cents (to be changed soon to 85 cents), and also purchases a milk shake at an a la carte price, the district will be reimbursed a total of 21 cents.

Andreas told the school district that "another potential area of savings would be in cafeteria operations affecting some or all Granite City schools."

"This involves cooking meals at one or more selected schools and transporting the meals to other schools for serving. The main savings would result from the fewer cafeteria worker hours necessary to prepare and serve meals."

"Some districts employ this technique to reduce expenses. Granite City schools could also benefit due to the proximity of several of the buildings and the fact that all schools have ovens for reheating food."

"If current contract restrictions can be modified, we recommend that the schools review the possibility of satellite operations. You may wish to contact the Illinois Office of Education for assistance in determining whether satellites would be more cost-efficient than current operations."

"If you decide to implement satellite operations, one alternative would be to implement the program system-wide."

"In a district of this size, one cafeteria could be used as the preparing school if its kitchen facilities were adequate."

"Another alternative is to implement in schools of close proximity. Examples:

"If South High is a preparing school, it is within 2 blocks of Coolidge Junior High, 4 blocks of Niedringhaus and 6 blocks of Frohardt."

"North High is a mile from Maryville School and two miles from Mitchell School."

"Prairie Junior High is two blocks from Logan School."

"A satellite program, while reducing the number of workers hours required for preparing food, would entail some additional hours for food transportation, and a capital investment for transportation equipment."

"Fortunately, you already have much of the necessary equipment at potential satellite cafeterias, such as warming ovens, freezers, coolers and serving lines."

Adams was a charter member of the Ainald Provost Guard, and served as its president, prior to his retirement from the group. He is a member of the Royal Order of Jesters, Court 86.

He has been a member of the York Rite Bodies or many years, plus a member of the High Twelve. The DeMolay honored Adams with the Honorary Legion of Honor a few years ago. Don also is a member of the New Hope Chapter, Order of Eastern Star.

He was appointed to the Divan of Ainald Temple in 1971 by Charles Wagner who was then potentate.

As the years passed, and while on the Divan, Adams has served in many capacities at the Temple level, and his biggest accomplishment was chairing the finest and largest circus program Ainald has had. His input with the nobility brought out new ideas and action that will continue for years to come.

He is serving as a member of the Board of Governors of the Shriners Hospital, St. Louis Unit, and is the secretary of the Executive Committee of the 18-man board composed of many other Temples of the Midwest.

Born in Tennessee where he received some of his early education, he moved to this area where he finished his schooling which included specialized business courses as well as Southern Illinois University special programs.

He is vice-president and director of the State Loan and Savings, chairman of the Commercial Division, United Way, and a member of the Lay Advisory board of St. Elizabeth Medical Center in Granite City.

The Adams family are members of the Nameki Presbyterian Church where Don has served as trustee and ruling elder. He has also served as Building and Grounds Chairman, and headed the Christian Education Department as chairman.

School. A leave of absence for the spring semester was granted to Norman Malench, a custodian, due to illness.

In a private session lasting until 11:30 p.m., board members interviewed four teachers who are applying for the position of varsity football coach at Granite City High School South. No decision was made last week, and the four will be interviewed further by administrators before a recommendation is submitted to the board.

In its role as administrative district of the Quad-City special education region, the Granite City School Board approved hiring of Carla McGinnis as an occupational therapist assistant, Ann Phillips as an occupational therapist employed two days a week, and Jane Brandt as an "early childhood find person" on a half-time basis.

The board accepted the resignation of Jean Gruver of the region's staff and approved a certificate of recognition for Kay Hayne, noting her years of service as president of Parents for Special Education.

A $500 grant will be sought from SIUE to be used by early childhood classes to offer nutritious snacks to students.

Special Education Director Larry Dew will attend a seminar on "Special education and the handicapped student—a legal examination of Public Law 94-142," March 19-21 in Houston.

Two replacement wide-carriage typewriters will be purchased for the region.

County union talks still at standstill

Two competing unions last week settled their dispute involving Madison County employees, but the matter is not ready to be brought before the county board for its approval.

That was the word after last week's county board meeting from board Chairman Hagnauer, D-Granite City.

Hagnauer said the board is sending letters to Teamsters Local 626 and Local 789 of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees. The county wants to know exactly which employees each union will represent, he said.

The two unions last week announced they had resolved their recognition dispute.

The agreement listed the groups each would represent.

Meanwhile, negotiations between the county board and AFSCME remain at a standstill. They were halted by a court order Dec. 17.

As a result of a lawsuit filed by the Teamsters, a county judge on Dec. 26 ordered the county board to join in a request for a new union recognition for approximately 400 county employees.

The unions' agreement was announced before the county board could discuss whether it would follow the order.

GRANITE CITY (ILL.) PRESS-RECORD, Monday, January 26, 1981—7

'Toppers top Steelers in East tourney

By TOMSCHOCKER
of the Press-Record
Bellefonte head coach
Harland Scheibal was only trying to protect two of his players who were in foul trouble. What he did was find the key to beat the Granite City North Steelers.

Playing in the Consolation Third Place game of the Bellefonte East Invitational Tournament here Saturday afternoon, a weary Steeler squad dropped the game to the Hilltoppers 54-53.

Scheibal's first thought when he called for the delay came from his squad was with the intention of saving Mark Scheibal and Gary Hunsche, who were both playing with four fouls. "I was trying to prevent those two from fouling out," said (coach) Scheibal. "I also saw that North was getting tired, so we wore them down with our delay game."

The fourth period strategy worked to a tee as the Steelers found their shots falling short and their muscle on the boards depleted. Trailing by only four after three quarters, North was well in reach of its first victory of the year.

Harold Rody provided the fire power for the Steelers and practically kept North in the game all by himself. He connected for 14 first half points and grabbed just four in the second half for a game high 18.

The Steelers had the chance for the lead in the third frame, but they were betrothed from the free throw line. Down by two, they missed two one-and-one attempts. "Our inability to hit the basket cost us," said
North head coach Bill Ohlendorf. "It's no good when you don't know how to get it done."

Hillsboro knew how to get the job completed, but in past games it was only getting it from one man.
Scheibal was the scoring threat, hitting 19 against a powerful De Smet team earlier in the tourney. The Steelers really didn't pay much attention to Kent Loveless. It was a mistake.

Loveless drilled in his first five shots in a row and tallied 16 in the first half. He hit six more in the third quarter and took to the free throw line for the final eight minutes.

Hitting seven of eight from the charity stripe, Loveless scored a game high 31 points.
"We didn't know how he could shoot," said Ohlendorf.
"He only made five shots in 18 attempts in the first two games. I made sure I made a note of that to the players in pre-game."

It was Loveless' nine fourth quarter points that helped seal the Hilltopper win. The delay game tired North as it was forced to foul. Loveless was on the receiving end of most of those. "The biggest thing in the game was Loveless' scoring performance," said (coach) Scheibal. "We weren't getting any other big scoring other than from Scheibal." He totaled 12 points.

DeSmet tourney champ

BELLEVENTE — When
the pairings for the Bellefonte
East Invitational Tournament were made, it set up a possible showdown between two powerful clubs. De Smet of St. Louis and Murphysboro, De Smet was there, but the Red Devils failed to make the curtain call.

The Spartans, 13-4, winners of the East tourney in 1978 and 1979, tied the Alton Red Birds for the most tourney championships with a 75-61 win over Bellefonte
West here Saturday.

Tim Hohl, known by his teammates as "The Operator," cut his way for 20 points to lead De Smet. Jim "Radar" Roder used his scopes to chip in 17 while Mike Farris pounded 16 and

South over Alton Friday

Triad stops Warriors

By PETE HAYES
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record

ST. JACOB — Going into the past weekend,
Granite City South basketball coach Don Deterding was realistic. He knew his team had a better chance at winning Saturday night than Friday. After all, his Warriors were traveling to Alton Friday and had but to win at Triad High Saturday.

But Deterding's team did an about-face. After upsetting Alton 80-75 Friday, South lost to Triad 67-61 Saturday.

"We ran out of gas," said Deterding. "I think fatigue and the flu caught up with us." That flu-bug had bitten South's George Sykes week before the two games. Usually one of the Warriors' leading scorers, he scored a total of 13 points in the two games combined. Saturday night against Triad he scored four.

"I know it sounds like a cop-out," said Deterding.
"But the Alton game was a very emotional one for us. I think we were drained emotionally. They (Triad) had more incentive than we did, too. They've had all week to prepare for this one game."

An added incentive for Triad could have been that two of Deterding's daughters go to school there.
Daughter Laurie keeps the scoreboard for the Knights, while daughter Dawn is an athlete. "I'm sure they (Triad) didn't want to get beat by us," said Deterding.

"My daughters probably wouldn't have let them live it down."

By all rights, however, the Warriors should have won the game going away. They outscored the Knights from the field by four points, but made only seven of 26 free throw attempts. Friday against Alton, the Warriors made an amazing 22 of 29 free throw attempts. Triad was 17 of 27.

South got off to a decent start. It led 15-13 at the end of the first quarter. But that was about the only good quarter the Warriors played. They trailed 34-29 at halftime and 46-43 at the end of the third quarter. But Deterding wasn't all that disappointed after the game.

"I can't be that upset with the kids," Deterding said. "Triad's not all that bad. I know they've been losing lately, but they haven't been playing at home that much. They had a whole week to get ready for us."

"But if we hadn't beaten Alton, I probably would be feeling a lot worse after losing to Triad."

Triad's explosion was led by 6-6 center Mark Martz who broke loose for 26 points and 12 rebounds. "We can't defend the big man," said Deterding. "That's been one of our problems all season."

South center Eric Wallenberger scored 20 points himself. "We're starting to get some inside points," said Deterding. "I'm from the old Collinsville school."

TRIAD'S 'NIGHT.' Saturday wasn't
Granite City South's night. After beating Alton Friday, the Warriors were stopped cold by the berger (in dark) shoots over Triad's Mark Wade.

North is third in Quincy meet

QUINCY — If you were to go head-to-head in a dual meet with the Granite City North wrestling team, the outlook wouldn't be good.
The Steelers are 15-0-1 in that department. But, they're having their problems when it comes to tournament competition.

Having already placed second in a holiday tourney,

North couldn't find a balanced strength as it played Madison, even up after that. Charles Claggett instituted the assault with 11
first period tangles. He completed the contest with 19.

A Greyhound bucket
midway through the second period drew Lebanon to within nine. Madison was still warming up, though.

Finishing with 137½ points, the Steelers fell behind at a second place
Springfield squad that had 15½; and the tournament champion, East Moline. The Panthers collected 168

points.

"It was pretty disappointing tourney," said
North head coach Walt Whitaker. "Some people didn't come through for us. I think we should have come in higher. We should have at least gotten Springfield.

Trojans roll past Lebanon

MADISON — Tucked up on the Madison High School gymnasium wall in big green and white lettering reads:
"Madison Trojans Ride The Green Wave." That wave is riding high and the tempest fury built to an awesome size within the Trojan basketball team here Friday.

For the second game in a row, the entire Madison squad contributed in its formidable scoring attack as the Trojans destroyed the Lebanon Greyhounds 109-74.
Madison pumped in 44 fields goals against the Greyhounds, but the hardest bucket to connect on was that magic "dollar bill".
With the Trojan reserves completing the show, Madison took three trips down the court with its score at 96 and came away failing to "bust the clock" so to speak.

"We got selfish from the fourth quarter on," said Trojan head coach Larry Graham whose squad has now posted a 13 game winning streak and a 15-1 record. "They were just out there seeing who could get the points."

A full house crowd made it known when the century
mark was established.
Shannon Manson, who had attempted the feat once before, drilled in the a shot that brought the fans to their feet with a deafening roar.

"Lebanon is becoming a big rivalry," said Graham.
"That's why there was so many people. We had a lot of alumni here tonight."

Despite the 35 point lopsided margin, Lebanon was actually in the game at one time. It took four and a half minutes to record its first basket, even though it was already down 10-0, but it played Madison, even up

after that. Charles Claggett
instituted the assault with 11
first period tangles. He completed the contest with 19.

A Greyhound bucket
midway through the second period drew Lebanon to within nine. Madison was still warming up, though.

One of two Pat Hatter's specialties, the slam dunk, followed soon after. He totaled 17 points for the game. The Trojans were shifting into high gear.

Morris Hughes led all Madison scorers with 20 points, but he had 13 of them in the third quarter as the Trojans rolled off a straight tallies and opened up a 30 point lead. "Hughes doesn't get interested unless it's a close game," said Graham.

The Madison defense and Kerwin Stanley made quite sure the game was far from being a nail-biter. Countless steals and pin point assists.
Stanley sparked the Trojans defense that allowed just 13
Lebanon points in the third frame.

Cougars lose to Wright State

Special to the Press-Record

DAYTON — It was early Sunday morning
after No. 1 ranked Wright
State University's
Raiders had beaten them, 81-65, the night before that the basketball Cougars of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville crammed their tired and battered bodies into their vans and headed for home. It was SIUE's 19th game and only three have been at home.

Nov 8-11 (while Wright increased its record to 14-2), the Cougars of Coach Jim Dudley no longer could secretly hope for a miracle starting course with an upset win over Wright State and a long-shot bid to a post-season NCAA division II tourney bid.

About the best the young (there's not a senior on the squad)
Cougars can now hope for is to post the school's first winning record in six years.

They'll have eight more games to go, including their solo Wednesday night up at Decatur, Ill., against Joe Ramsey's high-flying Millikin University quintet. Five of their remaining games
(U. of Missouri, Kansas

City, Millikin, McKendree College, Indiana
State U., Evansville and St. Joseph College) are at home.

In the game Saturday night against Wright
State, the Cougars, again showing their potential for greatness, led the Raiders through most of the first half and the biggest crowd in the school's history out to celebrate homecoming was beginning to become chilled with the thought of an upset.

It wasn't to be though,
as the Raiders' big duo of Rod Benson and Roman Welch got their act together and slammed

the door in the Cougars' faces.

Benson, hitting on 11 of 19, beat out the Cougars' Ted Smith for game-scoring honors, 23-22.

Welch, pulling down a contest-high 12 rebounds and hitting on seven of 14 shots was third highest.
The losers' Randall
Jones and Scott Kibbes, hitting 16 and 12 in that order, couldn't make up for the Cougars' loss of their second best scorer, freshman Henry Felton.
The skillful Felton remained at home still favoring his right ankle hurt last week in the Cougars' victory over Quincy College.

The tactics by Hillsboro caused North all kinds of problems. Rody's scoring was hauled and its mistakes became more numerous. The Steelers turned over the ball seven times in the fourth quarter and 19 for the game. It turned a five point game into a 60-47 margin for Hillsboro, who reeled off eight unanswered tallies.

"We stopped executing," said Ghendoff. "We had turnovers we shouldn't have and when the one person that's scoring is shut down, you have to be able to find it from someone else."

SIUE's Ted Smith is really coming on

By AL BARNES
For the Press-Record

EDWARDSVILLE — Ted Smith, a mainstay on both the basketball and baseball teams at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, is a young man who is a pinch in the pro sports or the business world.

On the Dean's List every quarter since he enrolled at SIUE in the autumn of 1979, Smith has decided on his major — accounting. "I took two years of bookkeeping in high school and Mr. (Gene) Runde, my teacher, encouraged me and urged me to take up accounting. He's also a great sports fan."

A wing-forward for Coach Jim Dudley's basketball team, Smith is putting together a great year: he leads in practically every category of the Cougars' overall stats; he has the most points, 280; his per-game total of 16.4 is far and away the best; at the charity line his 920 average (46 of 50) is almost unbelievable and places him either third or fourth among the nation's NCAA Division II schools; and his seven rebound per game is the squad's best. He is also shooting .508 from the floor.

In his most recent game, the Cougars' 76-65 victory over Quincy College, he led SIUE's attack with 18 points, "I particularly enjoyed that game — they didn't think Scott (Kabbes), Dennis (Funneman) or myself worthy of being recruited at Quincy," he said.

Eastern Illinois wanted Smith, but "only for my baseball pitching," he said. "My mom, who went to high school with Coach (Tom) McDevitt, thought I should enroll in a school which would permit me to play both basketball and baseball. So, after talking to Coach (Bo) Collins and Coach Dudley, I decided to come to Southern.

Smith, whose shuffling walk belies and hides his really outstanding athletic abilities, has fond memories of his basketball career at Teutopolis, where he starred for three years for Coach Lawrence Carie and his Wooden Shoes.

Despite the Cougar's slow start (now 8-10), Smith still thinks SIUE could end up receiving a bid for a post-season tournament.

The basis for Smith's optimism is Wright State's 67-80 loss to St. Joseph College last week in Indiana. "We beat St. Joe 78-69, and we have really matured since that (SIUE's seventh game) time," Smith explained.

tremendous defensive game," said Graham. "People really don't realize how good he is." His contribution caused the Greyhounds to turn the ball over 29 times compared to just 11 for Madison.

Hughes' come-to-life act helped provide a 33 tally explosion in stanza three that put the game far out of reach. Mark Madgett was the only other double figure man for the Trojans as he threw in 10 points.

You have to get points from inside before you can win." Right behind Waltenberger was South's Ken McManus with 17 points. "He played a pretty decent game," said Detering. "And (Joe) Schnefke played well."

GC Steel decree on pollution control

U.S. Environmental Protection Agency Region V announced Thursday in Chicago that a consent decree will be lodged in federal court with National Steel Corp. to bring the steel producer's plant in Granite City into compliance with air and water pollution control regulations by 1982.

John McGuire, administrator of the U.S. EPA, Midwest Region, said the decree filed Jan. 20, the final day of the outgoing administration, was one of three such agreements made with National Steel.

A consent decree concerning National Steel's Great Lakes facilities near Detroit was lodged in court the previous day. The third is intended to resolve issues at the company's plant in Wierton, W. Va.

McGuire said the agreement with National Steel calls for air pollution controls at Granite City Steel that will reduce particulate emissions by 80 percent.

The settlement requires particulate controls on a modified basic oxygen furnace, two blast furnace cast houses, and three coke batteries, two of which will be reconstructed.

The consent decree was filed in the U.S. District Court in East St. Louis on behalf of the U.S. EPA by U.S. Attorney James Burgess Jr.

Entry of a final Granite City Steel decree by a federal judge will be delayed for 30 days after publication in the Federal Register, to permit public comment.

Mortgages, chili topics

Granite City Rotarians were told last week that variable interest home loans seem inevitable—due to inflation that has made it difficult to plan long-term mortgages at fixed interest rates.

President George Moore said tickets will be available this week for the club's annual chili day March 10.

Why is our utility bill higher than yours?

Why some bills are higher than others

Two houses may look alike and even have the same floor plan, but there can be a big difference in the way they use energy.

The number of persons in the household and the ages of the family members have a bearing on energy usage, of course. A large family with young children naturally will use more energy for laundry, cooking and water heating than a smaller family with older children.

But any household can operate comfortably with less energy by following the suggestions at right.

Ways to live well with less energy

- Weatherproof your home with adequate ceiling insulation, storm sash, weather-stripping and caulking around all outside openings.
- Do a little planning to use appliances less frequently. Use the dishwasher and laundry equipment with full loads. Use the oven only when it's needed, not for warming food. When using top burners, use pans that fit.
- Conserve energy by setting your thermostat down at night, by reducing the water heater temperature a few degrees, by opening the refrigerator door as infrequently as possible.

Action needed to assure work on second river lock

The Association for the Improvement of the Mississippi River (AIMR) is right in seeking a Congressional oversight review of delaying tactics by the Upper Mississippi River Basin Commission.

The UMRC, a northern-oriented group, seems unsympathetic to rapid progress in replacing the Alton locks and dam. And it is particularly unenthusiastic about the proposed inclusion of a second new river lock despite serious congestion, significant deterioration of the existing facilities and continued growth in energy-conserving waterway traffic.

Guy E. Jester, president of the association, said last week that his group also wants a Government Accounting Office inquiry into expenditures by the commission.

Jester, St. Louis district engineer for the Corps of Engineers prior to his Army retirement, conceded that more than $40 million has been made available by Congress to start work on the dam and one lock. But he predicted that a "stretch out" is likely to be encountered when added funds are sought.

"And the second lock is far from a sure thing," he warned. "I believe that it hangs in balance now, with the opposition standing nearby—its knife ready to kill the project."

"From all indications, the commission is now controlled by enemies of the new locks and dam, along with railroads and environmentalist groups who are appealing an earlier lower court approval to the U. S. Court of Appeals in Washington."

The possibility of legislative attention to the problem increased during the weekend when Congressman Robert A. Young said a House panel is likely to hold hearings this spring on the commission's progress—or lack of progress—in studying the need for a second new lock to help replace the existing two locks.

The UMRC study, authorized three years ago when Congress approved construction of a replacement lock and lock structure to be made public in September. The study must be submitted to Congress, with public comments, by Jan. 1. But Cong. Young said he is convinced that too slow a pace is being followed.

Elements of the study are to include a full environmental impact statement.

Since there is widespread doubt that the Upper Mississippi River Basin Commission can conduct a comprehensive study in the remaining time, Young may seek to transfer that part of the study to the Engineer Corps.

But the commission's report so far includes no recommendation for or against a second lock. It merely outlines how the commission will assess the need, and how lock design will determine environmental consequences.

Four months ago, the commission sought a 19-month extension of the deadline for completion of the study. That was opposed by Young and Senator Thomas F. Eagleton, who attached a clause to a water project law directing the commission to finish the study on time.

Last summer, Young had sought unsuccessfully to take the entire study away from the commission, composed of seven states and 10 federal agencies, and give the task to the Engineer Corps. The House Public Works Committee, in fact, adopted a binding resolution to that effect, but the shift was thwarted by the Interior Department.

What is at stake is more than the issue of adequate shipping facilities. Much delay and financial waste would result if it is after work is completed on the first replacement lock, followed by later duplication of such a structure to build the second lock.

In an example cited by Cong. Young is the cofferdam being built for construction of the initial lock. The same cofferdam could be used in work on a second lock, he asserts.

Barge operators say the need for a second lock is obvious. The first one already would be at 90 percent of capacity by 1987, when it is scheduled to open, they assert. Any problems with the new lock then could tie up river traffic for long periods, they say.

Senator John C. Danforth has sought and obtained a commitment to the project from new U. S. Transportation Secretary Drew L. Lewis Jr. But federal budget cuts in 1981 are expected to be severe, further complicating efforts to expedite the river work or even to keep it on schedule.

Amsted sales show decrease

Amsted Industries announced last week that sales in the first fiscal quarter ended Dec. 31, 1980, were $223 million, down $4.9 million from the December 1979 quarter. The firm operates the American Steel Foundries railroad products plant in Granite City.

Goff Smith, chairman, speaking at the annual stockholder meeting, said earnings were $15.2 million, or $1.41 per share, down $4.8 million or 44 cents per share from the same period last year, which was the second highest profit quarter in Amsted's history.

Net income amounted to 6.9 percent of sales compared to 8.8 percent a year ago.

Railroad product sales of $109.1 million were down $12.1 million, or 10 percent, reflecting a lower level of freight car production.

Sales of general industrial products were $52.3 million, down only slightly from $53 million last year.

Construction and building product sales amounted to $60.6 million, up $7.9 million, or 15 percent, due to higher sales of pressure pipe for water transmission and increased sales of plastic pipe for distribution. The higher sales occurred despite a continuing low level of housing starts.

Robert H. Wellington was elected chief executive officer of Amsted Industries by the company's board of directors.

Wellington, 58, continues as president. Smith, 64, who had been chief executive officer since 1974, continues as chairman.

Wellington joined Amsted's Griffin Wheel division in 1964, became general sales manager in 1966, and vice president in 1969.

He was elected Amsted vice-president in 1961, executive vice-president in 1974, and president and chief operating officer in January 1980.

He is a director of Amsted, L. E. Myers Company, and Signode Corp. He also serves the American Railroad Foundation and the Museum of Science and Industry, Chicago, as a director, and is active with the Chicago Committee of the Chicago Council on Foreign Relations, the Illinois State Chamber of Commerce, and the United Way of Metropolitan Chicago.

He is a mechanical engineering graduate of Northwestern University and holds a master's degree in business administration from the University of Chicago.

Wellington and his wife, Marjorie, live in Barrington, Ill. They have four children.

Smith, a 34-year veteran of Amsted, was elected president and chief operating officer in 1969.

He was elected chief executive officer in 1974, and chairman and chief executive officer in January 1980.

Amsted sales in the fiscal year ended Sept. 30, 1980, were $914.9 million and net income was $71.2 million.

The board of directors last week declared a quarterly dividend of 62 cents per share payable on March 13, 1981, to stockholders of record as of the close of business on Feb. 20.

This dividend is the same rate as that of the last quarter, and is an increase of seven cents, or 13 percent, over the rate paid a year ago.

Pre-tax operating income for the October-December 1980 quarter was $28,300,000, compared to $29,100,000, compared to $30,800,000.

Chairman Smith said that additions to property in the first quarter of 1980-81 were $14.5 million.

Present plans call for expenditures for property additions of up to $150 million in fiscal 1981 and 1982 combined, excluding acquisitions.

Projects underway include the construction of a new railroad wheel plant near Columbus, Ohio, as well as capacity additions at plants for production of freight car trucks and wheels, diesel locomotive wheels, water pipe, roller chain and piston pins.

Stockholders re-elected four directors to three-year terms. They are: D. C. Davis, chairman, Peoples Energy Corp.; T. L. Martin Jr., president, Illinois Institute of Technology; R. P. Reuss, chairman and chief executive officer, Central Telephone & Utilities Corp.; and E. J. Williams, chairman, president and chief executive officer, McGraw-Edison Co.

Stockholders ratified the appointment of Price Waterhouse & Co. as independent accountants to audit the statements of the company for the 1981 fiscal year.

Smith said Amsted's backlog of orders at Dec. 31, 1980, was $310 million.

This backlog compares to $333 million at Sept. 30, 1980, and $470 million a year ago.

Orders for new and repair freight car components, while still the largest element in the backlog, are down from a year ago and both a year ago and September.

The backlog of orders for general industrial products, which historically have represented the smallest portion of the backlog, are down from the start of the fiscal year and from a year ago. A principal factor in the decline is lower orders for valves because of fewer housing starts and reduced new power plant construction.

Smith said, "We continue to expect 1981 sales and earnings to be below last year's record-setting pace."

"The lower level of new freight car building, high interest rates and a weakened economy are all contributing factors."

"However, the strong underlying demand for energy-efficient railroad traffic, a pent-up need for new housing, and the eventual recovery of the economy should result in the present adverse factors having only a temporary effect on the company's performance."

Reappoint
Mauzy,
Castle

Governor James R. Thompson last week reappointed Michael P. Mauzy as director of the Illinois Department of Insurance and Jack H. Carrier as state fire marshal.

Vincent A. Tooley will continue as director of the Department of Administrative Services; John W. Castle as director of the Department of Commerce and Community Affairs; and Robert L. Mandeville as director of the Bureau of the Budget.

Also reappointed were Joyce E. Tucker, director of the Department of Human Rights; Brad Evislizer, director of the Department of Mines and Minerals; Frank Beal, director of the Institute of Natural Resources; and General John R. Phipps, adjutant general of the Military and Naval Department.

Gov. Thompson accepted the resignations of John R. Block as director of the Illinois Department of Agriculture and Raymond D. Lett as assistant agriculture director, effective Jan. 22.

Block has become the U. S. secretary of agriculture and Lett will join Block's staff.

The governor has named Richard W. Davidson as acting state agriculture director until a permanent appointee is named. A Sangamon County farmer who has worked in the department since 1966,

News notes

Fifty-two American diplomats and servicemen held hostage by Iran for 44 days were reunited with their families Sunday at West Point, N.Y., and will be honored in Washington at a presidential reception tomorrow. A crowd estimated at 200,000 welcomed them back from overseas. Senator Charles H. Percy of Illinois, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said Sunday that Iran should be punished for its seizure of the U.S. Embassy in Tehran and its "barbaric behavior," including physical and psychological abuse, toward those who were captured.

Consumer prices rose 12.4 percent in 1980 following increases of 9 percent in 1979 and 13.3 percent in 1978. After-tax buying power fell 4.8 percent last year after declining 5.3 percent in 1979, a total decrease of 10.1 percent in the last two years. There are predictions of a 1 percent food price rise in 1981, with gasoline climbing to $1.50 a gallon.

The Buildings Committee of the Madison County Board will confer with the Goshen Preservation Alliance on terms of a proposed lease and plans for the group's future use of the old county jail.

Air Products and Chemicals, Inc., sees another year of sales and earnings growth in 1981. Sales in the first fiscal quarter ending Dec. 31 were $366 million, up 15 percent from $316 million in 1980, and net income was $32 million, a rise of four percent.

Due to state requirements for wiring, fire prevention systems, plumbing, ramps and stairs, renovation of the Madison County Sheltered Care Home has cost $328,000 in community development funds, about $260,000 more than originally projected.

Governor James R. Thompson on Friday authorized release of $7,500,000 in capital development bond funds for a coal conversion and conversion feasibility program at 14 state facilities, including Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

The goal is to lower state costs by reducing fuel use and substituting different fuels. SIUE at present is listed only for a feasibility study; initial boiler conversions will take place at the University of Illinois and Western Illinois University.

The St. Clair County mass transit district board voted Friday to enact a quarter-cent sales tax to help meet the cost of bus service. The Madison County group has taken similar action, and the Monroe County transit board has adopted an eight-cent tax.

Illinois Transportation Secretary John Kramer says roads and Chicago area mass transit will require $400 million more from higher taxes and fees next year.

John O. Marsh will be the new secretary of the Army, John F. Lehman Jr., secretary of the Navy and Verne Orr secretary of the Air Force. Murray L. Weidenbaum of Washington University, St. Louis, will head President Ronald Reagan's Council of Economic Advisors.

The state Judicial Inquiry Board believes the Illinois Court Commission has adopted illegal rules on conduct, depriving the state of power to supervise the judiciary. The board on Friday asked the commission to reconsider its dismissal of misconduct charges against a Rockford circuit judge who allegedly coerced three traffic defendants to waive jury trials and then tried to cover up the coercion. In the last four years, the commission has disciplined one judge and dismissed charges against six others.

Citing higher costs and smaller revenue due to more jobless, the Illinois Labor Department will borrow a record $1.1 billion from the federal government this year to finance unemployment of the Illinois State. This will increase the fund's deficit to $2.1 billion.

Gayle M. Franzen, who resigned last week as Illinois Corrections Department director, will be executive director of the Illinois State Toll Highway Authority.

The Illinois Pollution Control Board has asked James R. Burgess, an Illinois Environmental Council proposal to require rural-natural containers for beer and soft drinks.

Frederick J. Hess, 39, of Belleville, who served briefly as U. S. attorney in 1977, is expected to be named to that post, succeeding James R. Burgess, in the Southern District of Illinois. Other applicants are Burgess, William "Chuck" Evers of Collinsville and Philip Weber, also of Collinsville and the brother of Madison County State's Attorney Donald Weber.

Metropolitan area population here fell 2.9 percent, from 2,410,683 in 1970 to 2,349,486 in 1980, and dropped from 10th to 12th in the list of the largest U. S. urban centers.

A lieutenant general since July 1977 and vice-commander of the Military Air Force Command, Gen. Thomas M. Ryan Jr. will answer questions on current military issues in an appearance before the Granite City Rotary Club at its weekly luncheon tomorrow at the YMCA.

The speaker, 52 years old, began his Air Force career as an aviation cadet in September 1949 and is a command pilot with more than 6,500 flying hours. He has flown the B29, B47, B52, T38, T39, RF4, C-9, C130 and C141 aircraft.

PURSE, PILLS TAKEN
Debra Polach, 2015 Washington Ave., returned home at 2:30 p.m. Sunday to find that her purse and six bottles of medication had been stolen from a hutch in her home. She had been gone 90 minutes visiting a friend. There was no money in the purse, she said. There were no signs of forced entry.

Big tasks face new administration

To the Editor:

With the new year, the country has great expectations.

The American people have good reason to expect that the quality of governmental leadership will improve. Prudent men and women will replace liberal ideologues in the most senior government posts.

On the foreign affairs front, there won't be anyone at the U. S. Mission to the United Nations to describe Cuban Communism and its stabilizing force in Africa.

The American people would be well advised not to expect too much from the Carter administration. The Carter administration inherited a much healthier country from the Ford administration than the Reagan administration inherited from the Carter regime.

The Carter people are leaving a terrible mess for the new administration to clean up.

The country's economic problems are myriad. It is suffering from high inflation, high unemployment, huge federal deficits, and an industrial system that is in disarray.

Chrysler may go under at any time, with grave consequences for the industrial heartland.

The auto crisis was brought on, in part, because the administration wouldn't oppose excessive wages and also because it refused to stand up to the Japanese who have waged a virtual economic warfare against the United States while America picked up the tab for Japan's defense.

Getting interest rates down, in the face of inflation and huge deficits, is a priority task facing the administration and Congress.

No easy answers are available. Without lower interest rates, however, only the rich will be able to buy houses and automobiles.

Sales of residential real estate are down by 40 percent. And unless interest rates are more reasonable, companies won't be able to buy the new tools they need to modernize their operations and become more competitive.

Many of the expenditures of the federal government are allocated into place through the entitlement system.

Automatic increases are provided for millions of government employees. It will take a lot of hard work and maneuvering to change these special privileges embodied in the law.

The size of the problems facing the Reagan administration is so large that the American people realistic about the prospects for improvement in the short run.

It will take President Reagan most of his term to get the country on a sound footing.

6 file for judgeships

Six attorneys filed Thursday's deadline for the Third Judicial District. Candidates are former state's attorney Nicholas G. Byron of Edwardsville; Vanoh Robert Mateosian of Granite City; Steve Maragides of Madison; former circuit judge Victor J. Moselle, who failed to win retention in November; Jonathan Isbell of Collinsville; and Daniel Stack of Highland.

The court administrator's office in Springfield will put the names on ballots to be mailed to each of the circuit judges in the district, who will vote on the candidates and return the ballots to Springfield for counting.

It would be foolish for the American people to expect that two decades of giveaways and liberal misconceptions can be set right in a year.

There isn't a department of government that isn't riddled with bad practices or mistaken ideas — and with waste.

Thousands of top bureaucrats, who are responsible for the waste and unsound policies, are protected by the Civil Service system. They can't be demoted.

In brief, the American people need a clear understanding of the staggering tasks that confront President Reagan.

Happy hostages free

To the Editor:

We all watched in honor, As they shouted their formances, A small group of terrorists, Held our people hostage in Iran.

We thought it would be over, In just a week or so,
But weeks stretched into months, And they still didn't let them go.

Our faith in our Government, Grew a little thin; As we realized what position, America was in.

We have always been the land of milk and honey, Now our people were held in bondage for the Shah and his money.

The young man named Rocky, We felt he was our own. We prayed with his family, That he would soon be home.

We felt so close and watched. The news for him were set free, To go their separate ways.

We hope this will never happen again, But if it does I trust, American will stand together again. A must.
For togetherness is a must.

Peer relationships helpful to children

By CATHERINE MAUCK
County Homemaker
Adviser

As children grow older, they generally spend more time with their age-mates. Age-mates or peers are an important socializing agent in children's lives.

Activities with peers provide children with opportunities to try out different roles. Through trial and error, children learn how to wear the shoes of a leader, a follower or a clown.

Peer reaction serves to encourage or change behaviors. For example, a group may taboos crying over being hurt and label such behavior "sissy." Peer values are a serious matter, since a youngster must accept them in order to be accepted as a member.

Peers also serve as models for one another. Peer associations often determine slang expressions, likes and dislikes, emotional responses and ideas of fashion.

As children watch one another, they imitate and practice what they've observed.

Young children who are fearful of dogs have shown less fear after seeing an age-mate with a dog. Children with strong dependency behaviors have exhibited self-help behavior in the presence of more independent peers.

In mixed groups, older children frequently initiate and maintain activities. Older children serve as teachers to their younger peers in many neighborhood play groups.

But it is important for younger peers also to have opportunities to be in play groups where they are the older children.

In peer groups, children share secrets and explore ideas and the world around them. They explore one another's family and ethnic values.

Peers teach giving and taking, decision making, and other important social development skills.

Most adult-child relationships are authoritarian by nature. Adults necessarily have the final word because they are responsible as providers and protectors of children.

But with age-mates, children can interact as equals. Peers can debate decisions they can make and alter plans.

Age-mates get a feeling of power and control from this interaction.

Access to age-mates, acceptance by them, and constructive interactions with them are important to a child's social and emotional development.

Long-term studies have shown a relationship between poor childhood peer relations and future emotional problems.

How children see themselves depends partly on how others see them. Children who are liked and accepted by other children tend to feel positive toward themselves.

Large districts seek more uniform tax limits, state aid

The Granite City School Board last week endorsed six legislative goals of the Large Unit District Association and approved continuation of the role of Superintendent B. J. Davis in the association.

Supt. Davis commented that "the 33 large unit school districts in Illinois have formed an organization of their superintendents to act as a catalyst for the needs of large districts in the state, including state and federal legislative actions."

"It is the belief of this organization that large districts have certain problems unique to them, and have other problems that may be comparable to all districts but are magnified in large districts."

Superintendents from Madison County attending initial meetings of the state group have included Davis, John Renfro of Collinsville and Dr. Robert Lynn of Alton.

"I feel this organization can be of benefit to the children of unit districts in general and Granite City in particular," Supt. Davis said.

"The 33 districts represent 48 percent of the school children in the state. When combined with all unit districts, they represent areas served by approximately 64 percent of the Illinois legislators."

The Large Unit District Association favors:

1. The State Board of Education working through the legislature to equalize the taxing ability of unit districts with that of dual districts, so that taxing powers are similar.

Davis commented, "The need for this was evident in our recent building fund experience. By law we can only tax 37½ cents per $100 assessed valuation without referendum, while dual districts (separate high school and elementary districts) each have taxing power of 25 cents giving them total taxing ability of 50 cents compared to our 37½."

2. The state education board presenting legislation this year to more equally distribute state aid funds.

The superintendent said, "It is our contention that this can best be done by allowing high school districts to increase their operating tax rate in the formula from $1.05 to $1.15, while keeping elementary and unit districts at current levels. The fiscal impact of this change would redistribute about $20 million, primarily to the poorer school districts, including $16 million to unit systems and $4 million to elementary districts."

3. An increase in the state foundation level per student from $1,464 to $1,620. The purpose would be to bring state contributions to an average of 50 percent of school districts' operating costs, providing some relief from local property taxation. Cost is estimated at $80 million.

4. Full funding of categorical programs, such as special education and driver education. This will receive the least emphasis at this time, due to the state's financial position and the belief that all available money should be used to increase general state aid.

5. Use of the state's bonding power to phase-in school district payments for special education on a current basis over a five-year period. At present, the state pays school districts for special education, while dual districts' cash flow and limits their prospects of investing district funds at interest.

6. Legislation that would assure state aid replacement of money lost due to legislatively imposed state limitations.

CHARLES ROCKETT

donate my salary as alderman to the church, senior citizens and worthwhile groups.

"I feel after 20 years it is time for a change, because there has not been much improvement in Ward Five. 'With all of us working together we can make Ward Five a good place to live,' Rev. Rockett emphasized.

County ok's self-insurance

Health and hospitalization insurance paid by the county has been extended to Madison County board members and county elected officials.

Approval of the optional coverage was given by the county board.

Board Chairman Nelson Hagnauer of Granite City said cost of the insurance would be $52 a month per person. He said about six elected officials do not receive coverage from other sources and are interested in the county coverage.

Hershel Beane of Godfrey estimated that if six county officials and all the county board members take the insurance, the cost to the county would be $21,000 a year.

The board rejected Beane's request that it separate the vote on insurance for the elected officials from a vote on insurance for the county board members.

Coverage is to be on the same basis as provided to county employees who are not members of the Teamsters or Operating Engineers unions.

Mixed year at Monsanto

Monsanto Company announced Friday that consolidated net sales for the fourth quarter of 1980 were $1.66 billion, compared with $1.55 billion for the fourth quarter of 1979. Net income from continuing operations was $38.4 million or $1.05 per common share, compared with net income of $10.8 million or 30 cents in the fourth quarter of 1979.

Because of two previously announced write-offs, Monsanto will record an after-tax fourth-quarter loss of $69.4 million or $1.92 per share, included in the fourth quarter's results are charges of $69 million related to withdrawal from Polyester Filament and $33 million associated with withdrawal from the company's plastic-producing subsidiary in Spain, Alsacel.

For 1980, consolidated net sales reached $6.574 billion, compared with $6.193 billion for 1979.

Net income, prior to the non-recurring charges, was $255 million, compared with $331 million in 1979. Prior to these charges, primary earnings per common share were $7.03 for 1980 compared with $9.11 for 1979.

John W. Hanley, chairman and chief executive officer, said, "Monsanto's continuing operations were a mix of recognizable strengths and some economy-driven weaknesses in a difficult year."

"Our agricultural products company recorded the strongest fourth quarter in its history and all indicators point to fine performance in 1981. Fisher Controls recorded a strong performance for the fourth quarter and has a good order backlog."

"Several of our businesses continue to be buffeted by worldwide economic slowdown. The difficult decisions we recently took in regard to Polyester Filament and Alsacel should result in a significant improvement in profitability for our textiles, plastics and resins companies in 1981."

"As the economy returns to more normal rates of growth — particularly the housing and automotive sectors — we will be able to record profitability gains inherent in the Monsanto operations currently being negatively affected by those external, uncontrollable forces."

Remembering Elvis with love

By NANCY ANDERSON

HOLLYWOOD — Down at Graceland where "This Is Elvis" was in production, Joe Esposito and Jerry Schilling were remembering their late boss and friend.

With love.

And that's the new angle. For, since Elvis' death, other former compatriots have been turning big bucks by remembering him, if not with malice, at least without deep affection.

Aside from Vernon and Priscilla Presley and Col. Parker, Joe and Jerry probably knew and loved Elvis better than any, but they're not going to write about their years with the legend.

"I think there've been too many books already," Esposito said.

"This Is Elvis," a David Wolper production for Warner Bros., will combine home movies (some footage loaned by Joe) with dramatized scenes, the nature of which are top secret so far.

Neither Joe nor Jerry has cooperated with any other Elvis-oriented project since the star's death, but they are acting as consultants for "This Is Elvis."

Col. Parker is also cooperating with the producers as is Priscilla to the extent of permitting shooting at Graceland which Elvis left to their daughter, Lisa.

"For 20 of Elvis' 23 years at the top we had a lot of fun," Joe remembered. "The trouble was he'd never accept the fact that he had to slow down."

"You've heard that he had a premonition that he was going to die, but that's ridiculous.

"I remember one day in June before his death, he and I spent a long time talking about the future."

"He said he'd like to direct a good action picture and that I could produce it."

"Elvis took good care of us," said Jerry, who first met Presley when he, Schilling, was still in grammar school.

Jerry's older brother played football with Elvis, and one day, when the team was short a man, the kid was called into the lineup. From that beginning, by slow stages, Jerry became closer and closer to Elvis until he was accepted as a favored member of the entourage.

"Elvis' philosophy was, 'I've been lucky, so I want to share with my friends.'"

But Elvis also shared with strangers as Joe and Jerry recalled, remembering the day he saw a black couple, noses pressed to showroom glass, staring at a fine, new car.

Elvis bought the car and gave them the registration slip.

"Because," Joe said, "he could remember when he was growing up poor, and he and his mamma and daddy would go to an automobile dealer's and look through the glass at the cars.

"They never expected to own a car like the ones they saw, but they enjoyed looking at them."

"Elvis remembered what it was like to want something you couldn't have."

"One night a couple of weeks before Christmas we'd been to his mother's grave and were driving along a Memphis street when we saw an old, black junk man pushing a cart."

"I don't know how to describe him except to say he was a junk man, a man selling junk."

"Elvis said, 'Stop a minute.'"

"We stopped. He jumped out and handed the man all the money he had on him."

"Merry Christmas," he said.

"I don't think the man knew who'd given him the money. It happened so fast. People comment on how Elvis identified with black people. Well, he didn't identify with black people so much as he identified with poor people."

"He had a feeling for any one who was poor."

"We had a lot of fun," Jerry repeated. "Remember the night we almost ran over Lew Wasserman at Universal? (Wasserman headed the studio)."

"We took the studio tram and went riding and almost hit a big car. We didn't know it was Wasserman until we were called into the office the next day."

"Elvis was something that comes along about once in 2,000 years. I remember the night Frank Sinatra had a party for his daughter, Nancy, after her Las Vegas show. The room was crammed with stars, the biggest ones. But, when Elvis came in, everything stopped. All eyes were on him."

"He was unique. When he sang, 'My Way' ... well ... that's how the man did it."

Though Elvis is dead, life goes on for Joe and Jerry who are now in management.

Joe has been working with John Denver but eventually hopes to produce pictures and possibly direct.

Beach Boys and Peter Noone, earlier of Peter and the Hermits.

And, though, they don't plan to write a book about Elvis, they may someday join forces to produce a film about their late friend and benefactor.

"Someday," says Joe, "we might try to make a mini series about him."

Mary Jenkins, an employee at Graceland for 17 years, has written a book, "The Elvis I Knew," a loving reflection, which will be out soon.

"I once overheard Elvis say, 'I'd do anything for Mary, because she takes such good care of me,'" Jenkins says. "And he did give me a lovely home and a car."

Meanwhile the cookbook put together by Nancy Rooks, a Graceland cook for 14 years, and by Elvis' Uncle Vester continues to sell well. I recommend the apricot cake, directions for which are in the volume.

Soft wheat pretzels

1 pkg. active dry yeast
1 tsp. sugar
1½ cups warm water (105 to 115 degrees F.)
2½ cups bite-size crispy wheat squares, crushed to 1 cup
1 tsp. salt
2½ to 3½ cups all-purpose flour

Fish farms to grow

Norway expects its farm production of salmon and rainbow trout to increase from 1980's 7,500 tons to 20,000 to 25,000 tons in 1985, says Minister of Fisheries Eivind Bolle. At present Norway has 644 fish farms, but because of a lack of young fish only half were in operation in 1980.

A slick plan for a rainy day.

Some people manage to go through life without ever having a rainy day. But most people run into a storm now and then.

So it pays to plan for a storm and then hope it never happens.

The Payroll Savings Plan is one sure, safe, easy way to force yourself to start saving. And savings are a must to keep any financial plan from going on the skids.

The little you set aside each payday for U.S. Savings Bonds will grow. And help to keep you covered come rain or come shine.

And if you're lucky enough to miss the rain, it might help you plant a few shade trees.

Take stock in America.

When you put part of your savings into U.S. Savings Bonds you're helping to build a brighter future for your country and for yourself.
